THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

Merting of the Board of Commissione Business and Resolutions.

Board of Fire Commissioners held their The Board of Fire Commissioners held their regular meeting yesterday afternoon at Firemen's Hall, but transacted very little business of public importance, and were not in session longer than half an hour before they adjourned. Among the communications received at the meeting was one from Engineer R. V. Mackey, preferring charges against the Foreman and Assistant Foreman of Hook and Ladder Company No.10 for non-attendance at a fire in Greenwich-st. on the 98th inst. P. J. Byrnes gave notice of his intention to resign his position in Engine Company No.5 on the 1st ult. and stated, as a reason for so doing, that he could not comply with the roles and regulations of the new Department, as they were too binding in their nature. They require him to be on duty at the engine house 21 out of 24 hours in the day, and to be provided with a uniform which would cost not less than $700. Rather than follow these rules and regulations, and confine himself exclusively to one

MACHINE SHOP ITEMS .- The Allaire Works

The opera of "Crispino e la Comare" given for the fifth or sixth last time last evening, the actual last night being entirely dependent upon the will of the public. The management fixed the final performance some weeks ago, but the fixed the final performance some weeks ago, but the final perform s go about the streets and cry out "Glass put in." A who could not be accommodated with seats of any condaman of the Twenty-rixth Precinct, New York, who could not be accommodated with seats of any condaman of the Twenty-rixth Precinct, New York, who could not be accommodated with seats of any kind. No comic opera within our recollection, has made a hit so instantaneous and so lasting. It is, to be such and planned the murder. He deadtless knew if about the locality, from the fact of bringing the settim and Gorzales (the supposed principal in the fair) to Evans's fluor shop, corner of Myrtle-ave, and stockst. on the night the deed was perpensel. The three (Otero, Gonzales and Pellicar) called there about 9 o'clook p. 70. on induceday, and after taking six drisks of hot sakes six, went in the direction of the Park, which The popularity of "Crispino e la Comare" is a fact, from whatever cause it may, and it has proved an unfalling gold-mine to the management.

The performance was admirable, as usual, and th thusiasm of the audience was greater than upon any previous occasion, all that could be repeated being en-cored with that everwhelming applause which admits of no denial.

This evening there will be no performance, but in stead there will be a full rehearsal of L'Africaine. Some idea of the excitement in the public mind respect ing this opera may be formed from the fact that before 11 o'clock this morning every disposable seat in the Academy was sold. The rush commenced at a little after 8 a. m., and continued without intermission until at the hour first mentioned there was nothing more to sell. We knew that the "rush," and we are satisfied that the excitement will continue until the

On Wednesday evening "Faust" will be perform when to the attraction of Miss Kellogg and the other artists that of Miss Adelaide Phillips, in the rôle of Sicbel, will be added. This will be the strongest cast that and cannot but prove proportionally attractive.

Mr. Frederick Mollenhauer will give his annual concert at Dodworth's Hall on Saturday evening next, Dec. 2, when he will be easisted by Madame Pertha Johannsen, her first appearance since her return from Europe; Mr. S. B. Mills, Masters R. Bretto and Emil Mollenheuer, Mr. Hedemeyer, and other artists. Mr. Mollenhauer is a most able artist and should be liberally supported.

Mr. Boucicault's play of "The Octoroon" was represented last night, at the Winter Garden, for the first time this season, before a very large and very enthusiastic andience. It is a play nizes with the sentiments of humane persons, in reference to the subject of white slavery, and since it is fraught with strong emotional influence, and with this instance, it is told with remarkable ingenuity; and hence it takes a strong hold alike upon the fancy and United States. Slavery being dead, attacks upon it here, in a great measure, lost their immediate significance and interest. Yet this exhibition of some of its worst features still appeals to the emotions, while the skill with which the drama has been constructed, and the elegance with which its dialogue has been written, cannot fail to attract critical the main facts of his subject. A case, very similar to ing tragedy, is within our knowledge. And, if his principal expedient-that of the degeerreotype-be somewhat forced and improbable—yet its ingenuity makes it tolerable. "The Octoroon" will have a certain value, in time to come, as a suggestive picture of what has been. At the moment, it has the value of a clever and effective play. Mr. Stuart has caused it to be produced with suitable, and, in several particulars, beautiful scenery; and it has been acted remarkably well. Mr. Clarke's portraiture of the Yankee is as good as any with which our stage is acquainted; and Miss Rose Estinge's Zoe is full of grace, and sweetness, and feel The best personation of all, however-judged where the leaser parts in the drams are suitably rendered. Explosions of Steam Boilers.—Mr. NORMAN

Explosions of Steam Boilers.—Mr. NORMAN

MARD having discovered the cause of these Aerrife accidents, has devised a remedy that is applicable to all forms of boilers, and will equalize the temperature, no matter if the water is low, so long as any remains.

It is impossible to burst a boiler placed ander the general charge of the inventor. For information, or topicave orders to have boilers examined and have the appurature applied, call on DRAKE DE KAY, agent, No. 46 Pincest, No. 47 York City.
